The STAR-CHRONICLE

Wainwright — Edgerton — Chauvin

A CHEERING RESPONSE

The fact that the short-notice blood donor clinic held here last week proved to be the biggest peace-time blood donor clinic ever held at Wainwright is cheering and encouraging, especially when we consider the state of many of the country roads.

Over two hundred people, hearing the urgent call for blood, paid their visit to the clinic and made their donation. The urgency of the call was based partly on the fact that the Red Cross' blood supply was getting low, and partly on the fact that more plasma had been used in the Wainwright hospital during the immediately past period, than the people of the area had added to the bank.

As we have said, over two hundred donors is very encouraging. . . but even so, the number represents only a very small percentage of the population of the district. Of course there are the old and the young who cannot contribute, then there are those whose physical conditions precludes making a donation, but even with all these taken away, the two hundred (most of whom have been regular donors) still leaves out a lot of healthy citizens whose donations would be appreciated, and incidentally who might at some time find themselves in urgent need of the blood that others have given.

Just what keeps many people away from blood donor clinics is hard to define. Perhaps some, for some reason do not believe in them, then there are those who are shy, and perhaps there are those who fear that it will be an unpleasant operation. Only perhaps the urgent need of yourself or your family will dispel disbelief, for every effort has been made by other means to emphasize the importance and practicability of the effort. To overcome shyness just requires a little determination (and incidentally, they have some pretty good looking nurses at the clinic). When it comes to fear, this may be brushed away easily. Actually the whole thing is not painful or productive of unpleasant after-math. Any mosquito who could not inflict a more painful wound than is suffered at the blood donor clinic would be run out of the union.

For those who simply don't feel the responsibility we can only say . . . when it comes your turn to need the benefits of a blood transfusion, do not complain if your neighbour has failed to make adequate provision.

HIGH COST AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE; DO ALBERTANS PAY TOO MUCH?

Recently, in the course of picking up the odd items of news, we attended a meeting held in the interests of the Farmers' Union of Alberta. We don't intend to deal with the need of such a group, we've already gone on record as favoring the formation of a strong, vigorous farmer organization—but we'd like to comment on a topic which came in for considerable discussion at the meeting; that topic is automobile insurance in Alberta.

Like the majority of our fellow Albertans, we don't know a lot about insurance except that, again like most other Albertans, we think that it costs too much; therefore, to get a basis of comparison we are compelled to refer to the rates in other provinces. At the FUA meeting, the system in vogue in Saskatchewan was widely quoted and some of the figures used are interesting, to state it mildly. Here is the minimum coverage under the Saskatchewan policy:

Collision with $100 deductible;
Public liability, limits $5000 and $10,000;
Property damage, limit $1000, $100 deductible;
Fire and theft, $100 deductible.

Taking a 1949 Ford Sedan as basis of comparison, this coverage costs $11.00; the same car in Alberta, would cost $35.00 but the property damage and fire and theft would not be subject to the $100 deduction. Against this, the Saskatchewan plan provides for personal accident insurance with death and dismemberment benefits, and also weekly indemnities for loss of income—not included in the Alberta figures.

So much for minimum coverage; a more comprehensive "full coverage" risk shows much the same proportion. The Saskatchewan government rate is $28.50 while the board companies' rate in Alberta is $104.35 while the latter figure does not include the personal accident insurance.

These figures are taken in entirety from literature distributed at the meeting; they are not official and we cannot vouch for their accuracy but we do not believe that any organization could quote such figures for very long if they were not reasonably accurate. This being so, it would seem to us that there is too wide a spread between two provinces of roughly the same physical characteristics. We cannot agree with the sponsors of the meeting that the solution lies in plunging the government into the insurance business; our experience with government in business is not too happy and we'd consider such a solution only as a last resort. We think that the insurance companies themselves should heed the handwriting on the wall and, if it's financially possible, evolve a scheme of minimum coverage more within reach of John J. Driver. Failing this, they may find that they have priced themselves right out of a market which has been fairly lucrative in years gone by.

As we stated above, we are subject to correction on the accuracy of the figures. We have quoted the source from which we took them and if they are not accurate the organization should be forbidden to use them in the sense in which they are presently being used. However, we've a hunch that they are substantially correct and that insurance companies, like many other lines of business in the past, will not take any action until they have aroused such a demand for lower rates that the government, willingly or unwillingly will be compelled to heed popular demand and set up some such scheme for Alberta.

—Leduc Representative.

UN-EXPLAINABLE TREASON

Treason is an attitude of mind that seems incomprehensible. The motives that induce it seem justifiably weak. If men were deeply moved after long and thoughtful study and sincere coming of costs one might respect the man even while deploring his action. But there seems no such explanation. The shining examples have been men of superior intellect and training who have been easy dupes of a vicious fraud. In each case they threw away careers of distinction for a cause they were later to deny. It seems that they thought they had found a new faith and hope, a new warmth of human comradeship, and they accepted that judgment without a hint of careful investigation. When, later, they did investigate they found it all a sham. Yet it was this sham that moved Whittaker Chambers and Alger Hiss and, more recently, Dr. Klaus Fuchs to accept it easily and to betray their own. It was this sham that caught the imagination of six other intellectuals who were also to accept and later to deny and to attempt to explain in the book, "The God that Failed." The night promise at last is recognized as just a mask to hide the face of a creed whose first demand is treachery to all that had been good to them.

Whittaker Chambers was a man of outstanding gifts, an editor of importance who was deluded until he became a courier for the Kremlin, an admitted perjurer with no remaining reputation. Alger Hiss had climbed high in the field of diplomacy. He could name an handful of friends some of the highest and noblest in the land. His strange allegiance made him betray his country and the men who had given him their friendship. Dr. Klaus Fuchs was an anti-Nazi who, in his need, was given a friendly asylum in England. He became a British subject, of his own choice. There he was trained, trusted and achieved triumphant accomplishment. No one doubted him. He was given an important place at Britain's vital atomic research project at Harwell. Even when disturbing leaks of information appeared, no one dreamed of questioning him, until evidence appeared that was beyond any denial. Then he admitted it all.

It was the same old tragic, shabby story, a man of good intent who had become an easy dupe of a philosophy that justified any means to reach its ends. When finally Dr. Fuchs faced this so patent fact he turned from his creed with loathing, but not until it was too late to do more than write in his confession that there are "certain standards of behaviour that are in your mind you cannot disregard."

But still the question remains, what mental blind spot is there in gifted men that can make them accept without examination, a philosophy based on treachery and treason, and, on nothing else, as one worthy of the support of men of good will?

I've Been Thinking

About The Future Of Hockey

In Wainwright

H. G. Teskey

If by the time this appears in print the Eastern Alberta Hockey Schedule may be completed and a winning team declared. Regardless of the outcome of the remaining game or games, it has been a good hockey season for Wainwright fans and hockey sponsors. A splendid type of hockey has been presented. We've seen plenty of spills and had an abundance of thrills. We've had our "moneys worth". Financially, the sponsors have been very fortunate. Crowds of from 700 to over 1200 have attended every game for weeks past.

A final reckoning has not yet been made, but it would now appear that it would have been impossible to have brought the community this class of hockey had the one organization not been operating both the team and the arena. The arena has had a profitable winter, but the team has had an equally unprofitable one in spite of the splendid attendance at games. The cost of operating a team such as ours is much greater than most people think. For one, would be very interested and enlightened by a published detailed financial statement.

At the risk of again being reprimanded for voicing my opinions publicly without first submitting them to interested parties, I am going to offer suggestions for next winter's activities. We are now in a comparatively preposterous period. The time may soon come when "Dollar A Month" clubs will go bankrupt for want of members. The idea may be fine in order to put a new enterprise "on its feet", but sooner or later that enterprise should be independent of such aid. Hockey is deservedly receiving fine support now. Because of our enthusiasm over the return of this sport, because of the newness of our arena, and because we're receiving a fair return on our investment, we've got behind our hockey team this winter and gave it our wholehearted support.

But in our desire to vindicate beyond a doubt my right to remain in the League we "splashed" to such an extent as possibly to do much damage to organized hockey in this region. It is impossible for one team to suddenly import five players and in a short time jump from last to second place in the League standing without causing resentment. This resentment could have one of two results: first, it might discourage those teams that lack financial resources and cause them to drop them out of the league; second, it might send them on a hiring spree that we could not match. Both results are to be avoided. We want the League to continue with the present members; we want to compete on even terms with the others at a cost that we can afford.

A few days ago I talked about local hockey with a progressive citizen who knows much more about the game than I. His ideas struck me as being so very sensible and practicable that I hasten to hand them on. He proposed the organization of a league on a definitely semi-professional basis. A strong central executive should be given the authority to equalize the team strengths. To begin with, they would decide what class of hockey the league towns could afford. Each club would place before the executive a list of "local" players. Permission would then be granted each club to import a certain number of players with the object of equalizing the clubs. If during the hockey season one or more clubs proved to be quite inferior, they might seek permission to strengthen their line-ups with imports.

These ideas are definitely not original. They are being applied in all professional and most semi-professional hockey. The advantages are too evident to require elaboration. Great enthusiasm can easily lead to excesses. We have that enthusiasm now. I hope we retain it. But we have tended to have a beef-steak appetite on a hamburger income. (Please excuse) Let us get our feet back solidly on the ground and make plans that we know we can carry through and that will ensure good hockey in Wainwright or years to come.

JUST MAKING SURE

Is winter made miserable for you because of a steady succession of coughs and colds? If you seem to have a weakness for these irritating and exhausting infections, why not let your family doctor give you a complete examination. Persistent coughs and colds often indicate the beginning of something more serious and early detection frequently means quicker, surer cures.

The Star-Chronicle,
Wainwright, Alberta.

Dear Sir:
Your editorial about British election in the Star of March 1st is good but your criticisms of the working people and British generally I do not believe are quite correct. Having visited Britain last year I thought their recovery from the effects of the war very striking and very much to the credit of all people of Britain considering the terrible cost of the war in life, trained man-power and great destruction of property. Their effort was great during the war and during the years of peace. Statistics prove it. If there was any slackness evident I think it was because of so many years of rationing which was beginning to tell on the vitality of the people. I could not see how men doing heavy work could stand up and be full of pep on the rationing allowed. Rationing was not brought about by any policy of government, but through shortages brought about by war. It requires a vast amount of labor and expense which is unproductive. If rationing could be done away with it would release a large number of people for more productive work. We in Canada could do more than we are to bring this about by the production and export overseas of food of all kinds and raw materials of many kinds in large quantities. It appeared to me that there was a market for everything we produce such as food, wood, wool products, metals and other goods. A good thing for all to keep in mind is that at present prices our goods are not cheap in price to the British people on account of devalued pounds.

Because of the war and not the government or people, for the present Britain is short of dollars and will only be able to buy goods here to the extent of a few million dollars. It would be a very good thing if our country grant Britain all credit possible to buy our goods and by so doing it would stimulate our own lagging economy and so provide work for all.

Our war effort was good but our effort of co-operation with the Empire have not been so good since our war. Britain paid a much greater price in the war in lives and destruction of property. Let us give all help possible to encourage trade with Britain and Empire and Europe and thus keep ourselves from stagnating in the midst of plenty.

Yours truly,
J. R. THOMPSON.

Comment and Notes of Current Interest to Farmers

Compiled by J. S. Robblee and F. W. Maddex

TRACTORS CAN BE FIRE HAZARDS

Experiences among fire insurance officials goes to show that the farm tractor—a great labour-saving device, can also be a sinner on fire hazard. It treated too casually. Farm tractors are designed so that the chance of fire is reduced to a minimum, but experts point out that, unless the machine is kept in good running order, and is operated on a safety first plan it can be, and is, the cause of many farm fires. In keeping the tractors well serviced, the important items are mufflers, gasoline lines, sparkplugs and the ignition system. Trouble rarely comes suddenly and there are usually warnings of defects which can be detected in advance. If the tractor needs repairing, under no circumstances should this be done in any building where fire could do extensive damage. Distances to the nearest protection and the "cheapest" minimum distance should be 80 feet from any main building. Flaming gasoline spreads rapidly.

Combustible material in and around a tractor can be a serious fire hazard. Chaff can accumulate on the engine, pile up on the muffler or get sufficiently in contact with heated parts to cause a flash fire to start. And say the experts, tractors being driven around farm buildings should be handled with the same care and good judgment as driving a car on a crowded highway. There may be no rules of the farm—as there are of the highway—but the slightest accident, if flaming gasoline is involved, can cause a disastrous fire.

quality in milling and baking character. The Committee considered at length the case of Red Thatcher and reviewed the tests made for several years past. The Committee unanimously decided not to recommend this variety for licensing as it is found to be inferior in quality in milling and baking values. ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

Argentina's corn harvest is now estimated unofficially at 75 to 100 million bushels, compared with the 1925-1929 average of 80 million bushels and with last year's small crop of 189 million bushels. The acreage figure is unofficially estimated at 7 million acres, the smallest acreage on record and compared with the 1925-1929 average plantings of 15.3 million acres. The United States supply of flaxseed on January 1st amounted to 42,919,000 bushels, compared with the flaxseed supplies at the same date last year of 39,652,000 bushels. In Western Germany, official sources report that 1,812,000 acres were sown to winter wheat this year, compared to last year's sowings of 1,867,000 acres.

CONDITION HORSES FOR SPRING WORK
It's not too far from seedling time to give some thought to having the horse in good condition. Lane horses, and horses with bad shoulders cause expensive delays during seedling time. During the winter months horses get soft and their feet often become broken to such an extent that lameness occurs when they are put to regular work. The feet should be trimmed and straightened up early, so that when the time comes for heavy work the horse will be ready for it. Horses should be broken in to heavy work gradually and even before work starts feed should be gradually increased to put on some extra weight and tone the horse up gradually. Have the hames snug into the collar, as that brings the draft closer to the neck. Rest the horse frequently in the field and rub down their shoulders if wet. Nothing causes sore shoulders more quickly than a dirty, loose-fitting collar grinding dirt into wet shoulders. Bellybands should be kept tight. A few simple extra precautions when breaking horses into the first of the spring work, will be amply repaid by the good condition during the rest of the season.

SOIL SAVING
Careful management is needed to keep the soil on the farm. There are times when the soil escapes quickly. At other times it creeps away so slowly that it is scarcely noticeable in the early stages. Those little streams running off the cultivated land are danger signals. They are signs that the soil is being lost. It has lost the fibre that holds the particles together and is being blown off by the wind and taken on its way to the rivers and lakes. When the spring run-off starts, watch for signs of erosion in your fields, warns G. R. Stepien, Supervisor of Soil Conservation. It is easier to check erosion in the early stages than to wait until large machines are needed to fill the gullies. Legumes and grasses included in the crop rotation will restore fibre and fertility, and help to keep the soil where it belongs. Not only will a planned sequence of crops keep the soil on the farm, but it will prove more profitable than a straight grain summer-fallow rotation. Natural runways carrying considerable water should be left down permanently to a legume-grass mixture.

WITH THE DISTRICT AGRICULTURIST

By J. S. ROBBLEE

CROP IMPROVEMENT DEMONSTRATION POLICIES

The Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture has 3 Crop Improvement Demonstration Policies in effect for 1950. In all policies which deal with forage crops, the Department will supply seed at half cost for approved demonstrations up to 10 acres in size. The following are the various policies:

- (1) Forage Crop Seed Production
- (2) Pasture Improvement
- (3) Soil Conservation and Weed Control with forage crops, cereals and forage.

All applications must be made to this office by April 1st for benefit under this policy.

Sweet Clover Seeding

Sweet Clover should be grown more extensively in this district. Not only is it the largest forage producer we have but it also adds fibre and fertility to the soil. Many times we hear of Sweet Clover as a weed in wheat crops, and it can become very objectionable in grain. With care in handling this undesirable trait can be reduced to the minimum. It is good practice to take a hay crop from the land and then plow as soon as the hay is removed. If the Sweet Clover does not produce seed in its second year of growth there is no danger of it living on to become a weed in future grain crops.

Green Fxtail

Green Fxtail or Foxtail Millet or Wild Millet or the numerous other names this weed is called is rapidly spreading throughout this district. It is an annual weed that crowds grain crops and reduces yields especially in a dry year. The weed is a prolific seed setter producing hundreds of seeds per plant.

As seeds will often germinate in the spring and summer the use of summer-planted and green feed crops that can be cut before seed is produced is the only method of control that we have. Farmers having only small pastures of this weed should try and eradicate it at once.

WORLD OF WHEAT

A NEW WHEAT

A new wheat for Canada has been recommended for licensing by the Associate Committee on Grain Research, Plant Breeding and Plant Disease at their recent annual meeting. The new variety known in Canada as CT 609 originated at the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment Station and is known in the United States under the name of Les. Les is a bearded variety of spring wheat resistant to leaf and stem rust. It is somewhat higher in yield in Canada than any other variety, and with maturity about the same as Thatcher. It has short, medium strength of straw, and is equal to Thatcher and Marquis in milling and baking characteristics. Les is a cross between Hope and Timotei. In Canada it is found suitable for Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan, but probably not suitable for Western Saskatchewan and Alberta. It will be about two years before any seed of Les is available. Another U.S.A. variety CT 609 was not recommended because of inferior

NEWS NOTES

from your
Dist. Home Economist
Sheila M. Forrest, Ryley

Several of you have been asking about Pressure Cookers recently so I shall try to pass along a few tips and recipes.

You will probably find your first attempts at doing meats in the pressure cooker are not too successful but as you get used to it you will have greater success.

Here are a few recipes which use some of the cheaper cuts of meat or else have much "stretchers" such as bread or cereals added.

Meat Loaf

Cool quickly under cold water to reduce pressure.

- 1 1/2 lbs. round steak
- 1/2 lb. pork
- 2 eggs beaten
- 1 tsp. Bar-B-Cue sauce
- Salt and pepper
- 1 onion
- 1 carrot
- 1 stalk celery
- 1/2 cup corn flakes
- 1 tsp. fat.

Method: Have meat ground twice. Grate all ingredients and mix well. Form into a round loaf by placing the meat on wax paper. Heat cooler, add shortening and seal until brown, loaf can be easily turned with panacea turner. After searing add 2 or 3 tsp. water. Cook 15 minutes.

Beef Kidney and Vegetable Stew

- 2 beef kidneys
- 4 tsp. flour
- 4 tsp. butter or margarine
- 1 medium onion
- 1/2 cup dried carrots
- 1 large white potato
- 1 1/2 cups of canned tomatoes
- 1 tsp. salt
- Pepper

Method: Soak the kidney at least 1 hour in cold water (salty). Drain, remove all white membranes. Cut the kidney into 1 inch slices; roll in the flour and brown the fat. Add the onion and cool till yellowed. Cover with water and add the salt and pepper and simmer 15 minutes. Cool and add vegetables. Cook 2 minutes under 15 lbs. pressure.

Hungarian Goulash

27 minutes - 15 pounds pressure - no water.

- 1 pound beef, cubed.
- 1 pound lean veal, cubed
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 2 medium onions, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 cup tomato juice
- 1 cup carrot chunks
- 1 cup diced turnips
- 2 cups diced potatoes

Brown meat in hot fat in pan. Add onion and brown slightly; add seasonings and tomato juice. Cover, seal, and cook 30 minutes at 15 pounds pressure. Reduce pressure and add mixed vegetables. Seal and cook 7 more minutes at 15 pounds pressure. If a thick stew is desired stir in flour and water paste (3 tablespoons flour and 1/2 cup water) when the vegetables are

Be Ready for The Spring Rush..

Now is the time to think of looking over that machinery, in preparation for the Spring rush of work.

When the busy season begins, you will want to make use of every minute of the day, and it will be worth money to you to have your equipment in first class shape.

WEDDING BELLS

CARTIER — SCONES

A quite wedding of interest to Fabyan and district took place at the First Baptist Church in Edmonton on Saturday, March 11 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Irma Cartier, daughter of Mr. Diamond Cartier Sr. of Fabyan, became the bride of Mr. James Scones of Edmonton.

Miss Julia Cartier, of Wainwright, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr. Scones' brother was best man.

Mr. Scones of Vancouver, member of the groom, was in Edmonton for the occasion.

Mr. Cartier and Mr. Scones were in attendance.

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white satin, long lily point sleeves and trailing veil, held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms.

She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bridesmaids wore a pink floor length gown with matching veil and her bouquet was of pink carnations.

A wedding reception was held at the Royal George Hotel in Edmonton and friends being present. Every wish for a long happy married life is extended to the young couple.

Mr. Ashton, clothing is at home with their new baby boy and both feeling fine.

The latest Fabyan scandal is where Mitchell leaves his "car" parked? And what the people say and what Dolly do—H. H. H.

The Ladies Sew and Sew Club are meeting at the home of Mrs. R. Findlay on Thursday of this week.

One more game in the bonspiel will tell if Fabyan is illuminated or eliminated.

A warning to Fabyan and district if they don't start "giving" on the news they have to make it up and I'm not sure that would be too good.

I'm sure the Laycocks, Tindalls, Kings, Bacons, Whitneys, Johnsons, Pares, etc., all in district go places and do things to help make our column interesting—so come on—"give".

Lloyd Cartier was an Edmonton visitor last week.

Several Fabyanites drove out to the park on Sunday afternoon and had a look at the catall and also saw the "Old King" buffalo that has been there for many years.

We have an "Outlook" hill at Fabyan, a place to park and gaze over the beautiful valley and the range in the early spring sun. Drive out and enjoy it sometime.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. A. Taylor were Edmonton visitors last week.

Allen Taylor is driving a nice new Meteor and—darn it any way, some gas isn't as wide as they should be. Or maybe the new car is wider than the old one?

Ell Cartier drove to the city Saturday to attend his sister's wedding. Mr. Cartier Sr., who had been in the city for several days returned home with him late Saturday evening.

M.D. No. 73 Accredited T. B. Free Area

The Honourable D. A. Ure has announced that according to advice received from the Veterinary Director General at Ottawa, Municipal District No. 73 is now a fully accredited T.B. Free Area. Its status as an accredited area will be effective until September 1st, 1951.

Such areas are established under the authority of the Veterinary Director General. Before a Municipality can become a T.B. Restricted Area, a petition must be signed by at least 75 per cent of the cattle owners in the Municipality. This petition is submitted to the Provincial Minister of Agriculture, who approves it and forwards it to the Veterinary Director General. When the Veterinary Director General accepts the petition the Dominion Department of Agriculture arranges for testing of cattle within the area.

Since 1929, over a quarter of a million cattle have been tested in this Province, and testing has been completed in seven Municipalities. One other Municipality was declared a Restricted Area last fall, and testing in this area is now under way. "The ultimate objective is to have the whole Province a T.B. Restricted Area," said the Minister, "but for the present the intention is to complete a block from Edmonton to Calgary with existing restricted areas as a nucleus." Tests to date have shown Alberta particularly fortunate in the low incidence of tuberculosis in cattle, said Mr. Ure. "Although over one-quarter of a million cattle have been tested, an average of only two reactors per one thousand has occurred." Mr. Ure further stated that petitions are also being circulated in all Municipalities as far south as Crossfield, and it is hoped to go as far as Calgary in the near future.

GILES

Mr. and Mrs. J. Nantais and family were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Treflak.

Miss Alva Shadbolt has been visiting in Calgary for the past few weeks.

Many of the young folk in the district journeyed to Wainwright on Tuesday night to take in the hockey game, all reporting a very enjoyable time.

Mr. Geo. Korolik is busy these days finishing the interior of Mike Treflak's house.

Howard and Iris Waddell and Ernie Carter visited on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sordoff.

Hiring is just around the corner but we wonder which one, the few nice spring days we had last week were soon replaced with more winter, it seems warm weather just can't break through.

We see a couple of men in the district burning the shovel handles the other day guess they got tired of digging to town the lake way round so decided to do something about it. So now the going west is open.

Mr. Myrtle Hooper entertained at a bridge birthday party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Taylor, on Friday last.

GERALD

Parn Poron topic of "Labor and Farmer, Friend or Foe" was one that needed considerable concentration, and was discussed from many angles. All agreed they should be friends. This meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Perkins on Monday last week. Eighteen people attended. A short recreation "period" was held. Lunch was served by Mrs. Perkins.

Quite a large number of Gerald residents donated blood at the Red Cross Clinic in Wainwright on March 7th. These and others attended the hockey game the same evening.

A recent visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Christopherson was Miss Vaage.

Howard and Bill like doing chores LATE after a busy day in town. They told me so.

The next meeting will be held April

HEATH

On March 10th, the regular meeting of the Heath F.W.U.A. was held at the home of Mrs. F. M. Ford with nine members and one visitor present.

A letter with regards to Farm Young People Week was discussed, with $15.00 being voted to the Conference Fund.

The ballot on the Five Year Pool was discussed and voted on, with $15.00 being sent to help defray the expenses of sending a delegation to Ottawa.

The suggestion which Miss Tweedy made at the T.B. film was discussed and the secretary was asked to draft a resolution for the approval of the members at the next meeting.

The possibility of having a St. John Ambulance course was discussed. The general opinion being that any who cared to take such a course could do so more conveniently in Wainwright.

Mrs. F. M. Ford gave the March bulletin "Arts and Crafts" and the questionnaire attached was filled in.

Mrs. F. M. Ford had an interesting discussion on the radio programmes "In Search of Ourselves."

A letter from Director, Mr. Tindall was discussed.

At the close of the meeting our hostess served a delicious lunch. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Patterson's on April 15. All visitors are welcome.

(Too late for last week)

Mrs. H. H. Herbert arrived home on Saturday from Edmonton where she had been a patient in the University Hospital after undergoing a major operation. We are glad to report that Mrs. Herbert's progress is favorable.

Mrs. Nilschke of Chauvin visited with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cahill during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Baker spent Friday visiting Mrs. Baker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Spornitz before leaving on a holiday by motor to California with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Menster of Wainwright. Their son Jackie is staying with his grandmother Spornitz while they are away.

(This week)

Mrs. Alvin Johnson is a patient in the Wainwright hospital suffering from pleurisy. We are sorry to hear this and wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Howard Zalk has been a guest of Fred S. Ford during the past week while Howard has been working with his truck at the pool elevator in Heath.

Last Thursday afternoon Norman Ford was hit on the chin with the puck while playing hockey at school. He received quite a nasty cut and had to be taken to Wainwright, where the doctor dressed it after putting in several stitches.

Quite a number of residents of this district availed themselves of the opportunity of donating blood at the clinic held in Wainwright March 7th.

Mr. Harry Bouch, with a very painful accident on Monday afternoon when he and Allen were in the woods cutting logs. The tree slipped just as it was cut pinning Mr. Bouch's foot to the ground. Several bones were broken, also the muscles were torn and bruised. He was immediately taken to hospital. We are sorry to hear of Mr. Bouch's misfortune and hope it will soon heal without too much suffering.

GREENSHIELDS

Last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. J. Kelly and Susan and Mrs. R. H. Vauvau were visitors at the Morrison home.

During the evening of March 8th, the Alberta Wheat Pool presented several very interesting travel and comic films at Greenshields Hall. Mr. Murray of Chauvin, delegate for this district and Mr. J. J. Doherty of Vermilion, Field Service Division, were in attendance and gave detailed reports of the year's progress.

The Greenshields Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Garney Murray Thursday afternoon, March 9th. Ten members and four visitors were welcomed and had a very enjoyable afternoon.

1949 Annual Report Of The Agricultural Service Board

Municipal District of Wainwright

No. 31

The four Bad Weeds are still with us and appear to be under control for the present. Field-Blindweed is the only one with a new infestation and it appeared in two new patches on the same farm as an original infestation. 2-4-D has been valuable in the control of this weed. One patch of Horse Grass and one of Russian Knapweed have disappeared for the time being, this was due to a combination of Summerfallow, green feed, 2-4-D, and Sodium Chlorate. Leafy Spurge is still a very persistent pest and nothing seems to have worked very successfully as yet. We have six bad weeds growing in tubs at the office, these being Horse Grass, Russian Knapweed, Leafy Spurge, Field-Blindweed, Toad Flax and Tartary Duckweed. All of these weeds can be found somewhere in the M.D.

Toad Flax is the greatest headache in the M.D. of Wainwright at present, so far as weeds are concerned. This weed is spreading very rapidly and in most cases the farmers are very conscious of it and don't hesitate to make a report. This is one weed they really appear to be afraid of. Today, there are over 300 quarters in the M.D. infested with this weed in various degrees, ranging from very small patches to over 100 acres. Sodium Chlorate has been playing a wonderful part in the control of this weed, but its use is limited to small patches only. The average cost runs around $40.00 per acre per application of Sodium Chlorate and then you get a sterility of the soil up to four years or even longer. Some large infestations are creating a problem, for the reason, that as yet, haven't got a cure-all for Toad Flax on a large acreage. The quarter section we took over in 1948 for the control of Toad Flax was turned back to the crown last fall, but not because it is free from Toad Flax. We used Fall Tye and Summerfallow as the general practice in the control programme, and I feel we were gradually gaining control, but far from eradication. I feel this quarter was serving its purpose very well as an experimental plot, and a lot of valuable information has been gathered to date from our trial and error method of eradication. Some 80 drums of chlorate were used in the M.D. in 1949.

Three farms have been placed under supervision due to the infestation of Toad Flax. No results are recorded as yet, in a result of no crop being harvested, just summerfallow. An additional 3600 acres of cultivated land was placed under "Strip Seeding" notice in 1949. This makes a total of 6500 acres under notice to date. One or two dates back to 1948 and still in force, 490 acres were released after the year of 1948, this action involved four farmers who the Board considered had done a satisfactory job of weed control. The notices were placed on land found to be infested with Canada, Sow Thistle, Toad Flax, Wild Oats, Quack Grass and Wild Mustard. Those failing to satisfactorily control Canada and Sow Thistle were the greatest offenders. Rented land was also very prominent in the picture. A number of "Official Weed Notices" were issued by the weed inspector but no serious action taken on our part. Most of the farmers receiving these notices were very cooperative and need very little reminding that something had to be done. Others who didn't comply by the Act too readily had their farms condemned. No court action was taken, although we were tempted to do so on one or two occasions. I am personally opposed to court action if there is any other way out.

The Board recommended that the council purchase a Power Mower to be available to cut weeds on roads and on farms where the farmer has default, or where land has been abandoned and the condition is a menace to the community. The possibilities of a suitable spraying unit to treat roadsides with 2-4-D and other recommended weed chemicals were discussed and various recommendations forwarded council. The council was also asked by the Board to investigate the possibilities of distributing 2-4-D chemicals to the ratemakers at cost, and in this way encourage better weed control on roadside farms. The possibilities of central and more suitable seed cleaning plants for the M.D. were discussed, without a satisfactory decision being reached. A number of sprayers and cutters were operating in the district last summer with varying results. The M.D. sprayer only operated on an experimental basis as it is not suitable for extensive field work. Demonstration Plots were set out again last spring for the control of Canada Thistle and Wild Oats. These plots were to demonstrate cultural control of specific weeds using Oil barley as the competitive crop. As in previous years the early seeding for the control of Canada and Sow Thistle didn't prove very successful, due mostly to the early frost and drought. The Wild Oats plots were very good, as usual. The late seeding of an early maturing variety of grain is recognized as a general recommendation for this district. The early frost last fall lowered the germination and also the yield in some of the very late seeded plots. A small Field Day was held at one of the plots and speakers from Edmonton and Vermilion were present.

"Save the Soil" Campaign

There were 34 farmers all told in the campaign for 1949. These being 24 from 1948 and 10 new ones for 1949. Judging was done by Mr. Hawker and Mr. Bentley from the School of Agriculture at Vermilion. Meetings were held after harvest with these men and Mr. Gordon Stirling of the Department of Agriculture in Edmonton, as guest speakers. The winners of the different competitions were announced at that time. There were two competitions, Best Farm and Improvement competition. The improvement competition has been set up on a five-year basis where you compete every year. The Best Farm competition mainly for the first year entries, following this you can only compete for the cup every other year. Several of the contestants have had a definite cereal-forecrop rotation setup. The Wainwright and District Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture have donated the cup for the improvement competition. The Municipal District of Wainwright put on the cup for the Best Farm competition.

Back-Sloping and Seeding of Roads

Several miles of road have been back sloped to date in the M.D. in two divisions. The farmers along whose farms roads have been built were very cooperative and gave their council full support. It will be several years before this type of road becomes too, but it is very gratifying to see the interest taken to date in this type of road as recommended by your board. Several more miles of approved road were seeded to a grass and legume mixture last summer and fall, and this will continue as the roads are made ready. The seed mixture is supplied by the Department of Agriculture free of charge for approved roads. Bang's Disease Control and T.B. Free Areas

Bang's Disease is still raging in the Municipal District. Several losses were encountered by a number of farmers and ranchers last spring. New cases of Undulant Fever were treated. The Agricultural Service Board and interested farm groups and individuals organized different communities and had Blood Testing and Calftood Vaccination done. Some 250 premises were visited by the Veterinarian and 1395 cows tested for Bang's in 1949. Of those tested 199 were positive, and 27 suspicious, which means that approximately 20% of the cattle were infected or 1 out of every 5 head. The Municipal Council in cooperation with the Board, are setting up the machinery to circulate a petition to declare the Municipal District of Wainwright No. 61 a Bang's Free Area.

The testing of cattle was commenced in the M.D. during the year on an organized basis in some communities. Petitions are on hand in the Municipal Office to also declare the M.D. a T.B. free area. These petitions will be circulated at the same time as those for Bang's which we hope will eventually declare the Municipal District a T.B. and Bang's Free Area (Bovine). Respectfully submitted by F. W. MADDEX, Field Supervisor.

SAVING THE NEW BORN PIG. Extra attention at farrowing and care of the new born litter can do much to reduce costs of swine production. A. J. Charnetaki, Livestock Supervisor, says that based on the actual cost of raising a weaner pig to 40 or 50 pounds, every extra pig saved and marketed means an extra $5.00 to $10.00 for each litter.

Mr. Charnetaki offers a very practical suggestion for saving young pigs. He says that where a farrowing crate is not used, but breeders have found that narrowing the farrowing pen usually adds to the saving of a few extra pigs.

FLAX

A. M. Wilson, Alberta's Field Crops Commissioner, suggests that there is still a place for the flax crop on Alberta farms. The reserves of flax that have been built up in recent years are being rapidly depleted. Less than 40,000 acres of this crop were grown in Alberta last year.

With prospective wheat surpluses and the increasing difficulty of marketing wheat, farmers might well give consideration to other crops that can be grown successfully in this Province. For those who have clean land, flax offers an opportunity. It is not expected that flax will replace wheat to any great extent, but more flax could well be grown.

In the southern part of the Province, Dakota and Royal are the varieties recommended. In the northern and western areas, Redwing, because of its early maturity, is the most suitable variety. Information about sources of seed can be obtained from District Agriculturists or from the Field Crops Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Sports Camera

Boxing—often called the most brutal and deadly of sports—may soon lose its "killer" label attached to the game by its critics. And it's a good thing for all concerned from the sport's officials down to its participants.

New York State appears to be taking the lead in the fight to overcome fatalities in the ring, and strangely enough the State's latest and probably boldest move almost coincided with the first ring death of the year in the United States.

The New York State Athletic Commission announced recently new rules calling for stricter medical examinations for fighters both before and after bouts. Arrangements also were made for officers to carry out these exams in most larger state cities.

These new medical examination rules had been planned by a nine-man medical advisory board set up in 1948. But ironically the announcement came only a week after the death of middleweight Laverna Bosch of Plainville, Tex. The ex-marine died as a result of head injuries suffered when he was knocked out by George Small in a Brooklyn match.

Whether these new standards will do any good in cutting down ring mortality is yet to be seen. But it's a start and, in the case of New York State, even further measures are planned.

Under the new rules boxers must undergo several medical tests before they even enter the ring. Each licensed boxer is required to go through pre-license exams by July 1, and each year he'll have to have a thorough test before being passed for the year.

On top of that the fighter will be examined five days before a bout, again at the weigh-in the day of the fight and again at the arena just before entering the ring. The rules also demand the fighter to report any injury he may have suffered before the weigh-in and the arena examination.

After-the-bout examinations are included in the rules. When a boxer has been knocked out or injured in a bout he can be ordered to undergo another full examination within 24 hours.

If he refuses to undergo this test his license can be taken in and kept until the medical advisory board approves its return to him.

Noticed the change in sports news lately? For Canadians who have had their fill of cold and snow the appearance of more and more baseball news is as refreshing as the spring breeze.

Spread across the southern United States from Florida to California, the 16 major league ball clubs are in full spring training, battling fungus and chasing flies on palm-bordered fields.

As usual all team managers and owners are full of the pre-season optimism and as usual Brooklyn's Branch Rickey is just about the most confident and verbal. He claims it's the main hope of his National League champion Dodgers to whip the world champion New York Yankees in the World Series next fall.

The Yanks are just as confident and manager Casey Stengel feels his club is set for another winning year, especially if Joe DiMaggio's heel operation last year enables him to return to the all-powerful batting form he once had.

EVEN SELLING BIBLE IS RISKY BUSINESS

TORONTO—Even travelling salesmen for the Bible have their adventures in farming communities.

William Forsythe, who travels for the Upper Canada Bible Society, has been chased by women waving frying pans and set upon by vicious dogs, but possibly his oddest experience was the time a cow bought a 110 Bible.

An English immigrant, living north of Timmins, Ont., wanted a Bible, but was too proud to buy a 15-cent edition and too poor for a one expensive copy. But, eager to get one, he supplied Mr. Forsythe's landlady with milk for two months for his only possession—a Jersey cow. The landlady, in turn, paid the salesman for the slipped King James version.

Mr. Forsythe has sold the Bible from door to door across central and northern Ontario for the last 20 years. Despite the fact the Bible is still the world's "best seller" he says there is a great "famine of scriptures" even in Ontario.

At the headquarters store in Toronto 500 types of Bibles are available. Since the end of the Second World War, a growing number of displaced persons from war-shattered Europe has come into the store seeking the Bible in their own language.

District secretary Rev. H. E. Young said the Bible society's chief purpose is the wider circulation of the Holy Scriptures, without note or comment, in the mother tongue of all people.

A new project, to translate and print the New Testament in the Baka dialect for the tribe of 110,000 natives who inhabit the Cameroonian country of French Equatorial Africa, has been undertaken recently.

In the Legislature

This week saw the continuation and completion of the debate on the Speech from the Throne. Every Member of the Opposition spoke and a goodly number from the Government side.

Honourable A. J. Hooke, Minister of Agriculture, said the House had nearly a million tourists visited Alberta during the year and spent over twenty-three million dollars while here. Sixteen new highways were opened in Alberta last year, said Mr. Hooke, with the Government providing grants to assist them. During 1949, four thousand new British immigrants came to Alberta through the efforts of Alberta House in London and applications by people interested in coming here are now higher than they have ever been. Forty-three new industries were established in Alberta last year, employing over 600 people.

Honourable C. E. Gerhart said that the County System will be experimental and only those areas will come into it that make a request. Under the set-up, Municipal and School boundaries will be the same and one body will govern the area. In some cases municipal hospitals will also be a part of the County System. It is not expected that the County System, a few will be established in this year to prove whether or not the change is of advantage to the areas involved.

But the leaders of the Liberals and the C.C.F. were opposed to the present oil policy but at the same time Mr. H. B. Macdonald, Independent Member for Calgary, thought this Province was most fortunate in getting the development that we are today and congratulated the Government on the way that it is running the affairs of Alberta.

Mr. A. J. Llesmer of the C.C.F. spent most of his time arguing for the Beverage Dispensers in Calgary and finding fault with the hotel not serving the beer-drinking public satisfactorily.

Mr. H. B. Macdonald advocated driving faster and a closer checking on Alberta highways.

Closer scrutiny of highway traffic and tightening of liquor laws was advocated by Mr. Government Member, Rev. J. A. Wingblade.

Gordon Taylor, Member for Drumheller, was disturbed over the number of Orders-in-Council being passed by the Dominion Government, 730 during the First World War, 92,000 during the last war and 5,400 in 1947 when there was no war.

The Government was strongly criticized by Mr. Bourcier who while he sits on the Government side of the House sits apart from the rest of the members. He accused them of being Communists in the Government and that Social Credit principles had been abandoned.

About twenty Bills have been introduced into the House but only minor changes are being made by them and no particular change in principle or policy.

Friday night's sitting was well attended to hear the Budget address of Premier E. C. Manning. It was the largest budget in Alberta's history with an estimated revenue on income account of $74,789,530. The estimated expenditures on income and capital account will leave a balance this year estimated at $2,584,489. For many years the budget has been estimated with a deficit and this year's estimated surplus may even be exceeded by the end of 1949-51.

Much valuable information on Alberta's oil industry was given by the Honourable N. E. Tanner which will be dealt with in the next article in this paper.

WOMAN, 102, FEELS "ALMOST ETERNAL"
ARCOLA, Sask.—Mrs. Lovinia Beggs, better known as Grandma Beggs, had a word for how she felt when she reached her 102nd birthday recently.

"When a woman is 80 she is old. When she is 90 she is ancient. But when she is 102 she is almost eternal." Celebration of Grandma Beggs' birthday was delayed two weeks when violent snow storms clogged roads and kept her family from being with her. But she felt that at 102 there was no particular hurry.

The centenarian is still in good health, although her vision and hearing are not as good as they once were. But she misses little of what is going on in the world about her.

She greeted each of the 41 guests at her birthday party by name. Only one of her four children, a son Nelson, could be present for the event.

Looking back over her 102 years, Mrs. Beggs probably has a grayer perspective of world events than any other person in Saskatchewan.

She was born in 1848, the year of great revolutions in Europe. When she was a girl of 18, George Bernard Shaw was a squalling baby. During the 1870 war between France and Prussia she was already 22 years old.

By the time the Second World War arrived, Mrs. Beggs had become used to wars and rumors of wars, and takes refuge in her maxim: "All this will pass."

The only disadvantage of being old is that "so many of your friends have gone."

And like all old folk, Mrs. Beggs has her own particular recipe for longevity: "A cultivation of the homely virtues: thrift, honesty, consideration for other people, and hard work."

S. Black, Supervisor of Junior Activities. Upon payment of an application fee of $5.00, a junior grain club member receives four bushels of wheat or barley, or six bushels of oats, depending on the choice of the club. This, in all cases, is sufficient to sow three to four acres. Last year over 4,568 bushels of seed grain and 2,780 pounds of forage seed were forwarded to club members. Only registered or certified seed is furnished.

The difference between the actual cost of the seed and the member's contribution is made up by grain club sponsors whose valuable assistance is appreciated. Sponsors of these clubs are the Alberta Wheat Pool, United Grain Growers Limited, Line Elevator Farm Service and the Canada Mailing Company.

ORDER FORAGE SEED NOW

Grasses, alfalfa, and clovers are essential to any sound farming program. They are needed for soil maintenance, and weed control. In the grey wooded areas they are required to build up fertility and fibre right from the start. If properly managed and planted, forage crops will give at least as great a return per acre as cereal crops.

J. E. Birdsell, Supervisor of Crop Improvement, says that even though forage seed prices are higher than the usual this year, this is not a sound reason for neglecting to purchase and sow forage crop seed. Normally, forage seed sells at bargain prices in comparison with grain when rates of seeding and the number of crops produced from one seeding are considered. When soil benefits and crop yields are taken into account, forage crops are a top notch investment even at present prices. Another point to keep in mind is that there is no assurance that prices will be lower next year.

The question of seed supplies is an important one right now. With the light seed crop in 1949 and the strong export demand, supplies available for Alberta farmers have been reduced to a very low point. Seed of most kinds is still available, but farmers who do not get their seed immediately will not be able to get it later.

HOG NUMBERS SHOW INCREASE

The number of hogs on Canadian farms—excluding Newfoundland—on December 1, 1949, was estimated at 5,412,900 as compared with 4,604,300 on the same date in 1948, an increase of 18 per cent. There was an increase of 20 per cent in Western Canada and a gain of 16 per cent in Eastern Canada.

The fall pig crop—pigs saved, June to November—amounting to 4,199,100, was 15 per cent larger than the fall crop of 1948. This rate of increase in the pig crop applied to both East and West and according to the estimate of sows to farrow during the spring period of 1950 the spring pig crop this year will be about 15 per cent greater than that of 1949.

In 1949 the production of steel ingots in Canada reached a new record high of 8,444 tons pig day.

CANCER IS THE MOST CURABLE OF ALL MAJOR CAUSES OF DEATH... IF DETECTED EARLY!

WHAT IS CANCER?

(THE 2nd in A SERIES DEALING WITH CANCER)

The human body is a well organized society of cells. The body of a normal baby at birth is made up of approximately two billion cells. These cells continue to multiply in an orderly fashion until the child grows up.

When adult size is reached, natural "brakes" are silently and effectively applied. The cells stop dividing and multiplying except to patch up wounds, replace worn-out cells and otherwise keep the body in good repair. BUT SOMETIMES FOR NO APPARENT REASON, THE NATURAL BRAKES FAIL AND CELLS AGAIN START DIVIDING AND GROWING IN THE BODY.

The body has no use whatsoever for these cells. Besides living at the expense of the body, they crowd into space that rightfully belongs to healthy tissue and organs of the body. THIS SUPERNUMEROUS OR OUTLAW CELL GROUP IS TERMED - CANCER. Medical science and research have made much progress in methods of effecting control of these disorderly cell growths to the point where cancer is now one of the most curable of all major causes of death - IF IT IS DETECTED IN ITS EARLY STAGES!

FUTURE advertisements in this newspaper will provide common sense information on measures you can apply to help safeguard you and your family against cancer.

Uniform Bible Studies

UNIFORM BIBLE STUDIES
The Great Hero—Helping Those Who Suffer.

The lesson is Matthew 8:1-14.
St. John 8:1-18.
Memory verse: "I will be thou made clean."

With the lengthening days we are thinking of spring. Spring also speaks to us of the approach of Easter. For the next weeks we will study in these lessons the closing days in the earthly life of the Lord Jesus Christ. But before we do this we must know something about His whole life. We will take one incident from that life today. There is someone who cares for us even more than our Mother and Father care, and who knows just what is the best for us, and has power to help us in the best way. That someone is God. We know this is so because Jesus Christ showed us, when He lived on earth, what God is like. We have only to look at Jesus and say to ourselves, "God is like that," for Jesus is God, God's own Son.

In the days when Jesus lived on earth there were many sick people and very few doctors and nurses. In that hot country of Palestine there were many people suffering from the dreadful disease of leprosy. At that time no cure was known for the disease. Those who suffered from leprosy had to leave home and friends and live in a cave or a little hut in the wilderness with no one to care for them. Did Jesus care about these sufferers? Yes, He cared very much. One day as He came down from the mountain, after preaching His wonderful sermon on the Mount, a leper met Him and fell down at His feet saying, "Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean." Jesus stretched forth His hand and touched him. "I will," said Jesus, "be thou made clean." Immediately the man was made well. Every trace of the dreadful disease was gone. The man had faith that Jesus would heal him, and that faith had been rewarded. Jesus' command to the man was, "See you tell no man, but go and show yourself to the priest." The priest was the medical health officer, and it was he who had to say that the man was well and could go back to his home. Why did Jesus tell him not to inform anyone? Perhaps Jesus felt that people would not understand that He was showing God's love and care, and would think of Him as someone who could work wonders. Perhaps Jesus knew that they might even try to force Him to be their king, and lead a revolution. Jesus had not come to be that kind of king.

Jesus was so wonderful, so kind and so loving, but even from the time He began to teach and to heal. He had many enemies in the country, yet Jesus went to that city regularly for the great feast of His Church. If you turn to St. John 8:1-18 and read this passage, you find another instance where Jesus healed a crippled man. Jesus healed his man on the Sabbath Day, the day upon which the rulers of the Jews held their religious observance. The Gospel tells us "For this reason the Jews persecuted Jesus." But there was no fear in Jesus when He did what was right, and He always did. Jesus still heals today. He heals sick bodies Himself and through the skill of our doctors. He heals broken lives, broken by sin. Jesus is the Hero in the next few weeks and see how hard red and bitterness sent Jesus to the cross, and how He conquered in the end.

CREATIVE COOKERY

It may be true that the best cooks are born with a special ability but it is more likely that they have achieved success only after struggling for some time with the trial and error method of mastering basic principles.

The beginner at cooking has today many reliable sources of information and such efficient equipment that there should be no excuse for poor results. One may, however, know the rules and formulae and follow them with exactness and yet turn out very monotonous meals. It is the touch of originality that turns cooking from a science to an art.

The cook who has attained a reputation appreciates differences of texture, contrasts of dry and moist and also of sweet and sour foods. Good colour combinations add much to the appetizing appearance of a plate of food. Seasonings play a part in enhancing natural flavour overpower the original food.

Although a good cook is not short of ideas, he is able to save the plentiful and inexpensive food often by combining with other foods or with special seasonings. These recipes, recommended by the home economists of the Consumer Section, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, show what can be done to add interest to such a plain every-day dish as poached eggs.

Zesty Baked Eggs
1/4 cup salad dressing
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon minced parsley
1/4 teaspoon spicy meat sauce
1 cup milk
1 cup grated cheese
6 eggs

Sauces
Combine salad dressing, salt, pepper, parsley and spicy meat sauce. Heat in milk and grated cheese. Pour sauce into a well-greased baking dish. Break eggs into sauce, sprinkle with paprika. Set casserole in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until eggs are set. Yield: six servings.

Eggs a la King
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon fat
1/4 cup boiling water
1/4 cup chili sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
6 eggs
Brown onion in fat. Add boiling water, chili sauce, salt and paprika and bring to boiling point. Reduce heat and stir eggs into sauce. Cover pan and simmer gently until whites are set, about 5 minutes. Serve on buttered toast. Yield: six servings.
Poached Eggs With Mushroom Sauce
1/4 lb. mushrooms
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Wash and slice mushrooms. Cook in

WEEKLY EDITOR PROUD
PRINTS BABY EDITION

ESTEVAN, Sask.—Editor Andrew R. King came up with the full editorial treatment at the recent birth of his son.

A capsule-sized special edition of The Estevan Mercury was published with a banner headline "It's a boy!" splashed across the front page of the baby edition.

Thence followed special news stories and interviews. The front-page story stated that the new arrival, "following his vocal observation on current events, assumed a normal routine."

John Andrew Drew Stirling, King's son, was born on March 12, 1950, at 11:45-46. Also Saskatchewan Licensee.

the cause of all the excitement, was quoted in an interview as "expressing my opinion until I have been given the opportunity to make further detailed study of all relevant data." He dodged the camera, murmuring: "Sorry no pictures today. 'Tis hungry."

The stock went on record as being "not too happy about this overtime stuff."

In a thumb-nail interview, the moth-eaten Susan Lois Joan King lauded the appearance of her newborn son and said he has "this father's head shape, hairline, eyes, ears, supple and ability to go sound asleep at any time regardless of whatever is going on around him."

The special edition even had a classified section advertising "a variety of infant's apparel; color, pink," and calling desperately for job applications from prospective baby-sitters.

FORAGE CROP MIXTURES RECOMMENDED

Like people, forage crops increase their efficiency by working together. Grasses provide fibre; legumes increase fertility. A grass or a legume grown alone will serve a useful purpose, but if properly selected, the benefits of both are provided by the use of a mixture.

J. E. Birdall, Supervisor of Crop Improvement, points out that these are not the only advantages of mixtures. A pasture mixture is less likely to cause bloat than a pure legume and it is more nutritious than a straight grass pasture. With mixtures, full stands and consequently higher yields are obtained with fewer bare spots and weeds. A good mixture will give more continuous grazing since some kinds are more seriously affected by summer heat than others and some provide early spring and late fall pasture.

A good hay mixture is better than hay from one kind of crop in most cases. Although it is true that alfalfa alone makes an excellent feed, a mixture is easier to cure and losses from spoilage and extra labour in handling are kept to a minimum. Another point in favour of a hay mixture is that it is more nutritious than grass alone and more palatable than either kind of crop alone.

The type of mixture best suited to your farm will depend on location and your feed requirements. Full information about forage crop mixtures and management can be obtained from District Agriculturists.

Fresh Whitefish. Get your share while they last at Parcels' Market, Phone 18, Chauvin.
